Keeping a diary is a terrific way to keep track of things. For the term, write an entry each day to focus on helping our environment. You can write about what you are doing to help, a special project you might be running or any discoveries you make about our planet. Put the date on each entry and if you need more room, start another journal, use a spare notebook or create on the computer. Glue in articles, pictures - anything goes! Send it in at the end of term for your chance to be named a GREEN LANE HERO!

On completion, please mail this green diary to:

DIG IN
Schools Tree Day is the dedicated day for young people to take part in Australia's largest community tree planting event, National Tree Day. When is it: Schools Tree Day is on Friday, National Tree Day is on Sunday, August 1. What is the goal? To help plant a million native trees and shrubs - at school, at home, parks, you name it! Why take part in it? It is a wonderful way for children to learn about and make a positive contribution to Australia's natural environment. To find out more about National Tree Day call the National Tree Day hotline on 1300 885 or go to treeday.netark.org for more information. Planet Ark's campaigns visit /planetark.org

Caring for wildlife

Barbed wire fences, roads, and cats and dogs are some of the factors which cause injuries to wildlife in urban and rural areas.

Friday Environment Forum today will feature Gill Brownhill of Wildlife Rehabilitation Centre Inc who will tell us what to do if wildlife is found injured.

She will also share some of her experiences in the care of sick, injured or orphaned wildlife.

Gill and her husband Col started the Wildlife Rehabilitation Centre on the Noosa Eumundi Road in 1997 and since then they have nursed, and returned to the wild, thousands of birds and animals.

The wildlife rehabilitation centre is open 24 hours a day seven days a week to accept all types of injured wildlife. The centre is run entirely by volunteers and is funded by donations and some grants.

If you find injured wildlife, call Gill on 5442 8057

Members, guests and visitors are invited to attend today's Environment Forum at the NPA Environment Centre, Wallace Park, to hear about this passion for wildlife. Join us for morning coffee at 10am; flora and fauna reporting at 10.30am and Gill sharing her endearing stories at 11am. Interpretive birding with Valda starts at 8.30am. Visit www.noosaparks.org.au or call 5474 2486 for more information.

National Tree Day

Australia's largest community tree planting event is coming up on Sunday, August 1, and council in the Coast residents campaign to plant new native trees across Australia.
